

The FCC should do its job and exercise its mandate by prohibiting the airing of "Stolen Honor". It is a blatant polemic under the guise of journalism. It represents the worst of negative tactics, the outsourcing of the Presidents smear campaign. The FCC can do the most politically expedient thing and allow it to air, but my hope is that someone of integrity exists (remains?) somewhere in the administration that will place their convictions over their self interest.